Popular Couple Married Today

A very quiet wedding took place today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lemieux, their daughter Christine was united in marriage to Arnt Sorset, the Rev. Father Hayes, S. J., officiating. The bride and groom are well known here and have the well wishes of all. The newlyweds will occupy their pretty new home near the public school. The Sentinel joins in congratulating the happy pair.

Investigating The Christmas Panic

Calumet, January 1—A special grand jury went into session today to investigate the Christmas panic in which the lives of seventy two children were snuffed out in a panic caused by a drunken man who stuck his head in the hall in which the children were attending a Christmas celebration, in the rush for the doors that ensued the seventy two were trampled to death.

Boats Coming

Seattle, Jan. 1—The steamers Alki and Spokane are scheduled to sail for Southeastern Alaska on the 2nd.

Europe Having Cold Weather

Paris, Dec. 31—The greater part of Europe is experiencing bitter cold weather, it is the coldest winter for many years and there is much suffering and privation prevailing. The death toll caused from the extreme cold is appalling.

Olympic Restaurant Changes Hands

The Olympic Restaurant has changed hands, A. R. Hall has bought out M. E. Palmers interest and he will be the sole proprietor hereafter. Mr. Hall will endeavor to extend the best of services to all his patrons. Call around and try his eats once and you'll be a regular patron.

Wrangell Passengers On Alameda

Seattle, Jan. 1—The Alameda of the Alaska Steamship Co. sailed for Alaska last Tuesday night. Mrs. William Lewis and Mrs. Henry Hull are the Wrangell passengers.

Calumet, Jan. 1—The breach between the mine companies and miners continues to widen, there is much dissatisfaction existing.

Masquerade Some Dance

Talk about your masquerades, you should have been at the Red Men's Masquerade last night, everyone in town was there but you, and costumes, never such a variety before, it was the biggest masquerade ever held in Wrangell, and the music, say it was great, not the cost of it, just the music. Everybody and his brother turned out, it was a variety show as well as a dance.

The Rink was crammed and everybody was just bubbling over with mirth. That 15 lb ham was a great magnet, worst looking characters galore and fancy step-pers to a fare-you-well. Stikine Tribe No. 5, I. O. R. N. can do it up brown in the masquerade line, all the rest are imitators.

The prizes were dandies and thirteen of them for the last dance in 1913. They were awarded the following: Prize Waltz, 1st, Mrs. Matt Johnson and Jack Clausen; 2nd, Mrs. Hood and Matt Johnson; Most Original Characters, Mrs. Gartley and Mrs. Emery; Best Costumes, Mrs. Albrecht and Thor Hofstad; Best Sustained Characters, Mrs. Myers and Dr. Emery; Funniest Characters, Elsie Moore and Wm. Jones; and the Worst Looking Character, Charlie Lynch.

Seize Furs At Ketchikan

On December 4th E. P. Walker, Deputy Fur and Fish Warden, seized nine unprime Mink skins from Hoffman & Copeland of the Seattle Bar at Ketchikan, two unprime skins from trappers at Buca de Quadra and one unprime skin from Lewis Hansen, a merchant at Ketchikan, in violation of regulation No. 4 of Fur Laws. Mr. Walker is liable at any time to inspect furs in anyones possession and he will not be so lenient with violators of the Fur and Fish laws hereafter. Ignorance of the law will be no plea, every citizen of Alaska is supposed to know the laws and respect them.

Alaska Sourdoughs Hold Annual Ball

Seattle, Dec. 31—The Alaska Sourdoughs held their Grand Reunion Ball here last night. There were one hundred and fifty sourdoughs attended the dance and a merry time prevailed throughout the evening. All kinds of dances were indulged in but the favorites seemed to be the Juneau Jingle, Wrangell Wiggle, Ketchikan Glide and the Skagway Skip. The dance lasted till the wee small hours of the morning and the Sourdoughs had a glorious time.

San Francisco, Jan. 1—Pelky and Gunboat Smith are both in the pink of condition for todays fight. The betting is about even money.

Excitement At Seward

Seward, Jan. 1—There has been considerable friction between federal disbursing agent John Swift and Jack Dalton, he presumably hinders transportation from Check-aloon to Idewater of Matanuska coal. Trouble started over a heated argument between the two at Knick, Dalton punched Swift in the face and knocked him down, Swift had Dalton arrested and he was fined five dollars for assault. At a meeting of the Citizens Swift was bitterly denounced, all sides have wired grievances to Washington. Dalton now has offered to haul supplies for stampedeers to Nelchina free.

Big Stories Go Into Hands Of Receivers

New York, Jan. 1—Two great department stores here, the Boston Express Company, wholesale house, a private banking house and the Allied Siegel Stores have been placed in the hands of receivers.

Arested For Illegal Fishing

Nels Husvig of Petersburg, on the gasoline boat Dick, has been for some time past fishing herring on the West Coast of Prince of Wales Island. He has been shipping herring to Puget Sound and has been culling out the smaller ones and dumping them overboard, nothing but the big fat ones were good enough to ship, hence Dick put up about 10 per cent of his catch for shipment the other 90 per cent were thrown away which was a wilful violation of the fish law. Mr. Walker the Fur and Fish Warden got wind of Husvig's operation near Craig and on the 20th of December he went there and caught the offender red handed. Husvig was taken before the Commissioner's Court on the 22nd at Craig and fined two hundred dollars for his offence. This is an example to the old offenders. The law has come to stay this time so beware.

McDonald-Birch

Mr. Charlie McDonald and Miss Lillian Birch of Skowokawa, Wn., were married recently by Rev. J. S. Clark. The Sentinel extends congratulations with the many friends of the groom who is well known here having been connected with the McDonald Bros. who have been logging out of Wrangell for the past three years.

Pilot Of Burnside Dies Suddenly

Seattle, Dec. 31—The U. S. Cable ship Burnside reports that Pilot John Walsh died aboard the ship last night.

Secretary Wants More Lights

Washington, Jan. 1—Secretary Redfield has sent a communication to Speaker Champ Clard, urging that the coast of Alaska be more properly safe guarded against wrecks. In his communication he gives a full list of the various wrecks that have occurred on the Alaska Coast through insufficient precautions being taken by the Government for prevention.

Dowager Queen Of Sweden Dies

Stockholm, January 1—Dowager Queen Sophia of Sweden died yesterday. Before her marriage to King Oscar she was Princess of Nassau and was ranked as one of Europe's most beautiful women.

John Lind Goes To Meet President

Vera Cruz, Jan. 1—John Lind left here yesterday aboard the U. S. Cruiser Chester for Passchristian, Miss., to have a conference with President Wilson regarding the Mexican situation.

EDITORIAL

Nature knows no pause in progress and development, and attaches her curse on all inactions.

GOETHE.

Another year of progress has been rounded out in Alaska. Wrangell in particular has made many rapid strides during the past year and is near another milestone which marks the forward movement, the growth of both town and Territory has been a very substantial one, we are all aware that Alaska is richer, better and further ahead than it was a year ago. We should be proud of what we have accomplished in a year's time. There is no question as to the material development of our Territory, we have just harvested one of the largest aggregate catch of fish in the Territory's history, notwithstanding the fact that the gold output of the past year was not as great as the year before there has been a gratifying advance in the operation of new properties that promise well for the coming year. The same progressive spirit has been shown in Wrangell, the town has quit talking about doing things and is doing them. We have extended our water system, we have added new industries, there has been considerable construction work done, we are building a better class of residences, which have added greatly to the beauty of our town, we have improved our streets, and the Sentinel is proud of what Wrangell has accomplished. Our development has not been one-sided, our people have made money and are in the way of making more, poorer-ty is unknown amongst us, we have the most delightful climate in the world, our town is in open communication with the outside world the year around. Our harbor compares favorably with those of the Eastern cities and still the easterners think we are frozen up in the winter time, they associate us with icebergs and snow, when, in fact, our snow fall is lighter than that of the eastern states; when they are laboring through from three to six feet of snow we are able to go about in our shirt sleeves, still when they say Alaska they shiver. Here we are in the new year and no snow fall yet while our eastern friends are snow-bound.

Two very important things have happened during the past year, we have had Territorial Government and the way was opened to us to develop our Territory, Alaska is coming into its own at last. Our exact social and civic progress cannot be fully demonstrated but their influence has been considered. The evolution of progress has been strikingly demonstrated during the past year, and as we launch forth into the new year before us, let us all advance the spark and boost for our town and our Territory. There may be better places than Alaska, but there are many worse places. Alaska is undoubtedly one of the best countries on earth of course we are aware that the right kind of a person can do well anywhere, but nowhere on earth better than Alaska.

A Pessimistic Friend.
Hewitt—I am a proud father. Jewett—You'll get over your pride when the child grows up.—New York Press.

A certain writer has said that no newspaper which took truth for its standard, would make a pecuniary success. The press might return the compliment by remarking that no minister who told the truth about his congregation, alive or dead, would occupy the pulpit much longer than one Sunday afterward. The press and the pulpit go hand in hand with the whitewash brush magnifying little virtues and kindly throwing little deformities into oblivion. The pulpit, the pen and the grave stone are partners in saint-making.

Endless attacks on ragtime are largely the result of misapprehensions about ragtime's character and the nature of those who enjoy that particular line of amusement. The appeal of ragtime is to the unenlightened natural instinct for melody and rhythm.

Popular dances rests not on an artistic or cultured basis, but upon a universal psycho-physical fact, it is matter of the feet rather than that of the soul. Of course the Tango, Bunny Hug, Buffalo Bump, Grizzly Bear, Delevan Dip, Turkey Trot, Lobster Crawl, Paul Jones, Juneau Jingle, Wrangell Wiggle, Ketchikan Glide, Skagway Slip, Boston Skin, New York Splash, Frisco Walk and Petersburg Snooze are the natural sequels of ragtime music. Some people are born to the function of natural rhythmical movements, some may, with repeated practice, cultivate the art, but a great percentage of dances cannot make their feet answer to the beat of ragtime, others cannot resist, they just cannot make their feet behave, usually the protest comes from those who are not far enough advanced in the terpsichorean art to enable them to shake their feet gracefully to ragtime. The goody-good element vilifies these fancy twists and say they are prone to gratuitously bestow their presence whenever the new dances appear. Ragtime dances are not responsible for deterioration of taste, manners or morals for the masses who enjoy rag dances would have no dances to enjoy if that were taken away, unless something equally practical and sympathetic were given them, and this is a psychological impossibility in view of the fact that the people have created their popular dances precisely to their need and their taste. As to its having a deteriorating effect on them, vulgarities and all, such a claim is absurd in view of the fact that that it is not the dance that makes the people, but the people who make the dance to suit them. Popular dances are not forced upon the people, it is created out of their own spirit.

This is not a study in pessimism. It is only a picture of conditions at the bottom of the pit.

The bottom of the pit stays at its own level, but this is very different from saying that one must stick at the bottom of the pit.

There is a great opportunity for some one musically inclined to compose music for the Saint Vitus dance. It might make a hit.

"The Christian Ambition" will be the theme of Sunday evening Jan. 4. All are cordially invited.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Fred Mattson returned, on the Jefferson yesterday, from Juneau.

Lawrence Horgheim returned from Seattle on the Jefferson. Ole brought a smile back with him and the boys are disappointed.

The Columbia & Northern Fish & Packing Co., made a large shipment of frozen fish south on the Spokane.

Dave Oliver, of Klawock, is spending the Holidays in town.

Through the columns of this paper the Sunday School classes of St. Phillips Church wish to thank the Arctic Brotherhood for the use of their Christmas Tree lights.

Fred S. Willson returned on the Jefferson from Seattle. Fred says he had some time down there but there is no place like Wrangell.

The Wrangell merchants are sure some goers when it comes to picking out Art Calendars, the local merchants have calendars that would put larger merchants of the Cities to shame, they have spared no expense in putting the best that money can buy in their customers homes, they are daily reminders that will not be destroyed and are greatly appreciated by our citizens.

Frank Gadd is in town from Snow Pass where he has been trapping. Frank says the skins are coming slow this year and that there are trappers in every small bay on the islands.

C. P. Cole has just finished a beautiful inlaid card table which has over a thousand pieces of various kinds of woods inlaid. It has taken several months to complete the table, it has a checker-board in the center and four sets of crossed American and Canadian flags and the face of each suit of cards in the border; it is an unique piece of work. Mr. Cole has the table on exhibition at Matheson's store.

President Wilson Celebrates Birthday

Paschtrian, Jan. 1—Last Sunday President Wilson celebrated his 57th birthday. The President received telegrams from all sections of the United States and many foreign countries congratulating him upon the occasion. The President was born at Stanton, Va., Dec. 28, 1856.

The ancient Egyptians have no thing on the Americans when it comes to embalming. About ten days ago John B. Sweeney of New York City was suspicious of an egg he brought in the market a few days before. It bore the name of Clara Barker, Bellefontains, Ohio carefully penciled on it, and Mr. Sweeney wrote to Miss Barker to know about how long ago it was she wrote her name on the egg that Mr. Sweeney had bought for strictly fresh. The letter was delivered to Mrs. John Wright of Bellefontain, who before her marriage, four years ago last July, was Miss Clara Barker. She remembered having written her name on an egg she packed for shipment at a grocery in which she was employed a bout six month before her marriage.

The editor has an egg which he bought a few days ago as strictly fresh ranch, it has some very peculiar markings upon it, no one so far has been able to decipher the inscriptions and he is going to send it to the Smithsonian at Washington to have the hieroglyphics deciphered, they say the curator of the Smithsonian is away up in niology of the Mound Builders and the Cliff Dwellers.

Alaska Natives Organize Lodge

The Alaska Native Brotherhood is the latest organization formed in Alaska, and we believe the only Native organization of its kind in America. This organization was launched at Juneau recently but the headquarters will be at Sitka. The following officers were elected for a term of two years: Grand President, Peter Simpson, of Sitka; Vice Grand President, Chester Worthington of Wrangell; Grand Secretary, Eli Kinanock of Juneau; Grand Treasurer, Raf Young of Sitka; Grand Sergt. at Arms, Jimmy Johns of Klawock.

For Subordinate lodges it will take at least twelve members to secure a charter from the Grand Lodge. The initiation fee is ten dollars and six dollars a year dues. The Brotherhood is limited to English speaking members of the Native Northern races resident of Alaska.

The purpose of the organization is to assist and encourage the Native in his advancement from his Native State to a place among the cultivated races of the world; to oppose, discourage and overcome the narrow injustice of race prejudice, and to aid in the development of the Territory of Alaska; and in making it worthy of a place among the galaxy of States, and incidentally to secure citizenship for its members.

Chester Worthington the local representative of the Brotherhood informs us that about twenty-five prospective members have already signed up, so we presume that Wrangell will in the near future, have a local lodge of the Brotherhood. We believe the Brotherhood will be instrumental in making the natives useful members of society and eventually to procure citizenship for them, providing they sever their tribal relations and live up to their constitution.

Attempts Life Of President Moyer

Chicago, January 1—President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners who was shot and severely beaten up by alleged gunmen in the employ of the Citizens Alliance at Green Bay, Wis., is going to return to Calumet, Mich., accompanied by the Chief of Police of Boone, Iowa, as a bodyguard.

Small wonder the Mexicans value their lives so lightly, they are evidently not afraid of the hereafter, men like Lopez, the bandit, who snuffed up the fumes of over 1,000 pounds of sulphur while hidden in a Utah mine, can surely have no fears of that lake of brimstone beyond.

"Examinations from which to establish eligible registers for the positions of Assistant Keepers of Light Stations and Mates and Assistant Engineers on Lighthouse Tenders in the Sixteenth Light-house District, (Alaska), will be held by the Local Civil Service Board, at Ketchikan, Alaska, on April 15, 1914, or as soon thereafter as practicable.

Application blanks may be secured from the Light House Inspector, Ketchikan, Alaska.

Respectfully,
A. B. Edmonds,
Secretary Local Board Civil Service Examiners.

Last Straw

We are all familiar with the parable of the camel and the last straw, poor old Al Osborn is in the same fix, if he loses any more bottles his financial back will be broken. Last night Al had an awful dream, naturally enough if there is something on our mind that worries us considerable we are sure to dream of it, well to cut a long tale short, as the man said when he cut off the monkeys tail. Al dreamed when he was delivering milk a woman came out of the house with her apron full of empty milk bottles just then she tripped on something fell down and broke every blasted one of them, when the crash came Al woke up and hollered bottles! his wife thought he was bugs and he will be if his customers don't put some bottles out once and awhile.

A British scientist claims that saw dust can be made into sugar; no wonder the beach line smells so sweet.
